STUDENT LIFE

SUPERVISION

Who can measure progress without including those who so faithfully serve for the satisfaction of serving rather than for the satisfaction of being rewarded?

There is no better example of this than Mrs. Shields, the person to whom this yearbook is dedicated. Not only for efficient supervision of the cafeteria, but also for her ever willing assistance in class projects that require use of the cafeteria do we honor Mrs. Shields.

With this dedication, we hope to show, in part, our deep gratitude to you, Mrs. Shields, for the IMPACT you have made on CCS.

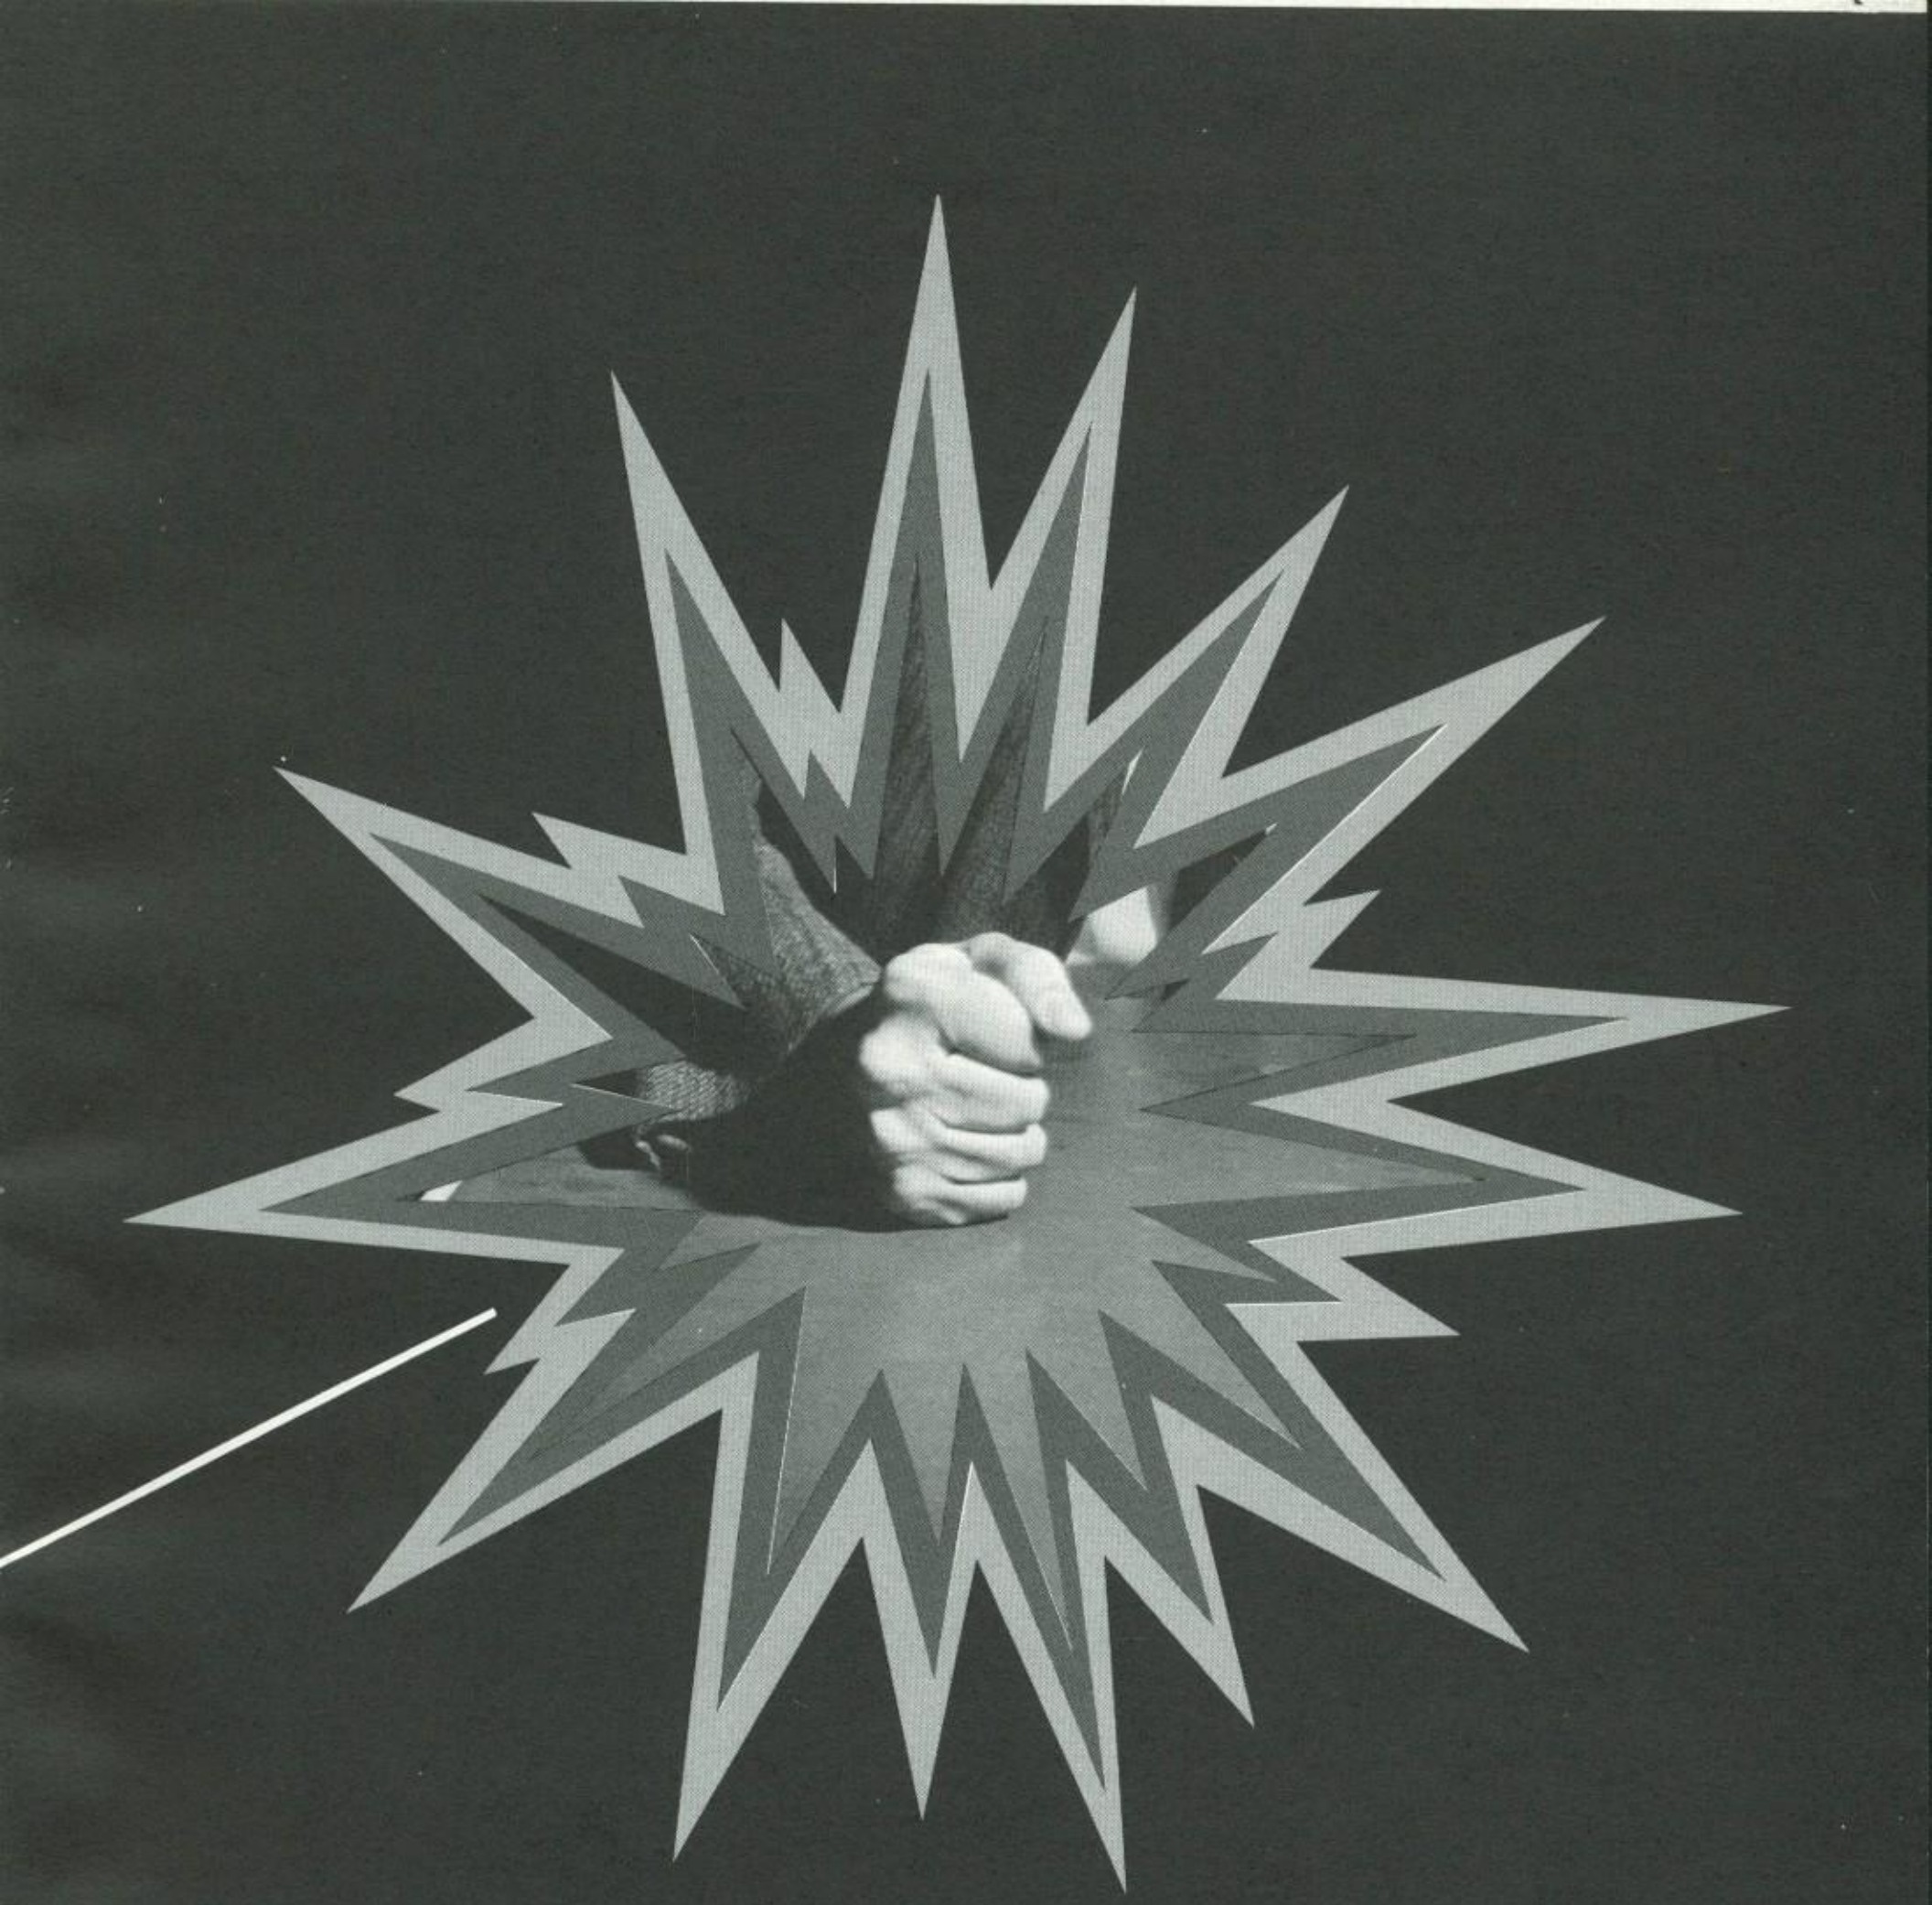
DEDICATION

We, the, class of 1968, wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Bensink for the assistance he has given us as a yearbook advisor. As incoming Seniors, we were inexperienced, to say the least, in yearbook matters. Mr. Bensink was always the one to pull us out of the ruts and set the ball rolling again. This job requires a great deal of top-notch skill, leadership, and patience, and Mr. Bensink truly possesses these qualities.

To you, Mr. Bensink, we give a special "thanks."

APPRECIATION

SUPERVISION



SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

Members of the class of '68—your commencement is but a short time away, and then you will begin the various activities for which you have been preparing.

You have had 12 years of formal education. Most of you have attended church and Sunday school. Some of you have participated in the work of other youth organizations. The goals of these planned programs have been to help you develop mentally, spiritually and morally to perform the tasks which lie before you.

When you leave Clymer Central School, you will take with you the love of your parents, the confidence of your teachers and the concern of all who have worked with you.

Remember that education is a continuing process. Be prepared for changing conditions and expect to adjust to changes that occur in a dynamic world.

Congratulations to each one of you for the efforts you have put forth and best wishes for your continued success. It has been a pleasure to work with you, and I shall follow your future progress with interest.

Hubert H. Brown

ENGLISH

EVANGELINE

Mr. Thomas, Mr. Morgan, Miss Gleason

English, the most affluent language today, contains more diversity and flexibility than any other. Like the people and customs that developed it, English is made up of foreign languages and national inheritances, and its history and growth make it an interesting subject.

In English I and II, taught by Mr. Thomas, the students learn the principles of good grammar and begin the study of literature. Literature is the main topic of study in English III and IV, taught by Mr. Morgan. The students study works of literature during different periods of history. They learn how the periods of history influence the authors writing during that time.

Zeus and his mortals.

THE THREAD THAT RUNS SO BARE

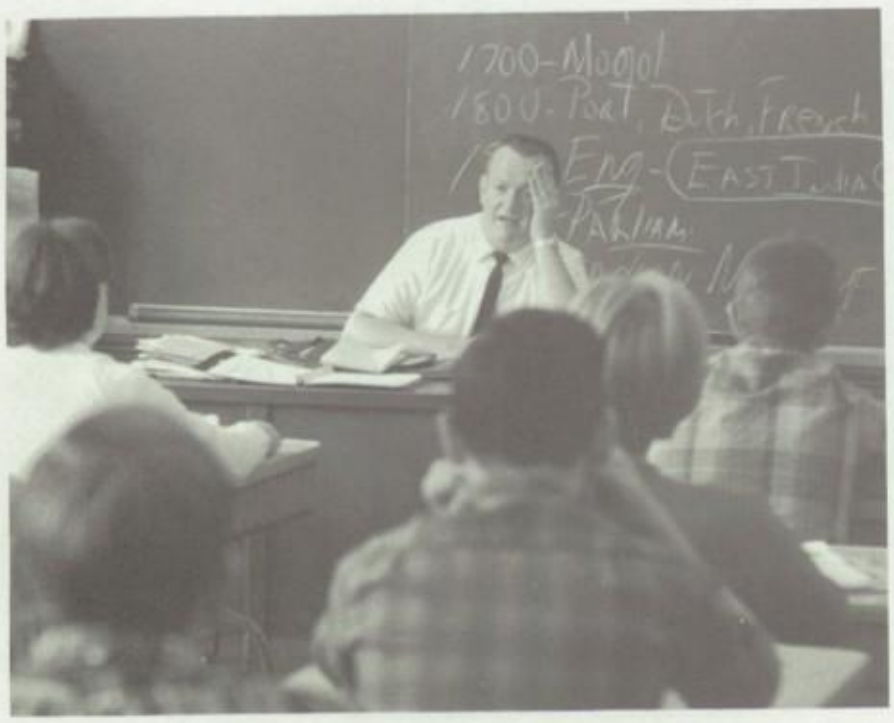
HISTORY

Mr. Keys, Mr. Strong, Mr. Russell

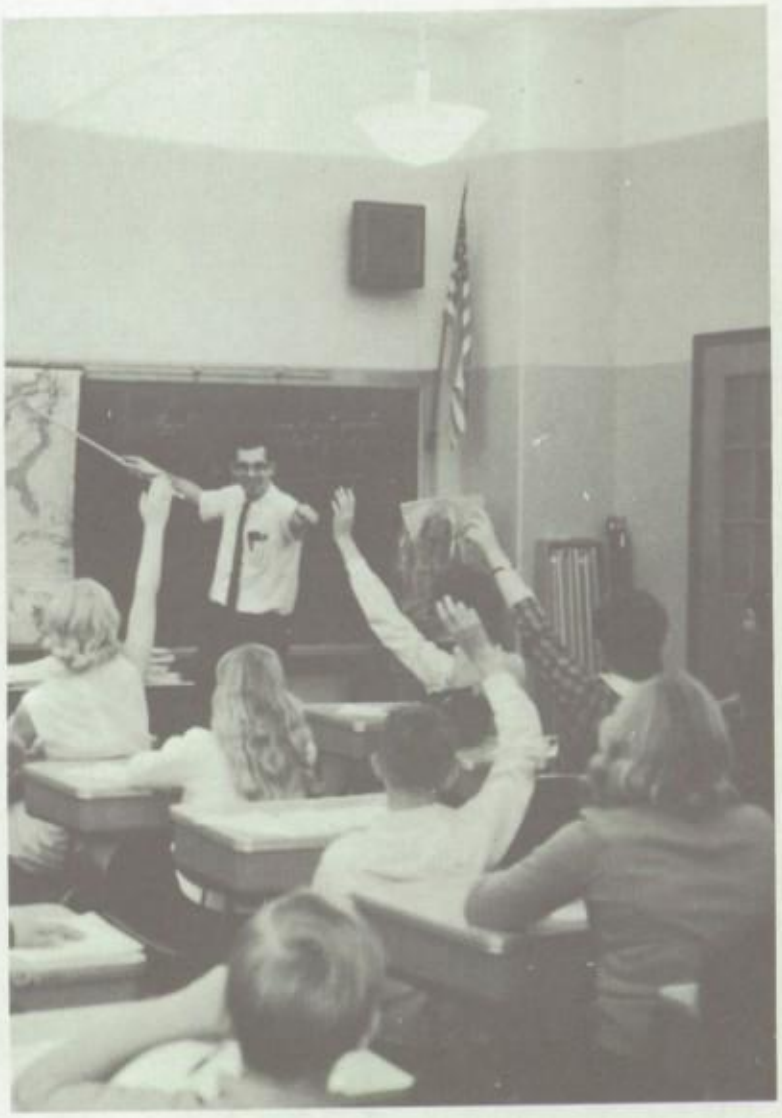
Big Brother is watching you.

From the study of history, we are able to apply our historic principles to present problems. We can benefit from our fore-fathers' mistakes and therefore develop a better world to live in.

"The supreme purpose of history is a better world. Yesterdays' records can keep us from repeating yesterdays' mistakes." Herbert Hoover



What I need is a "Compoz".

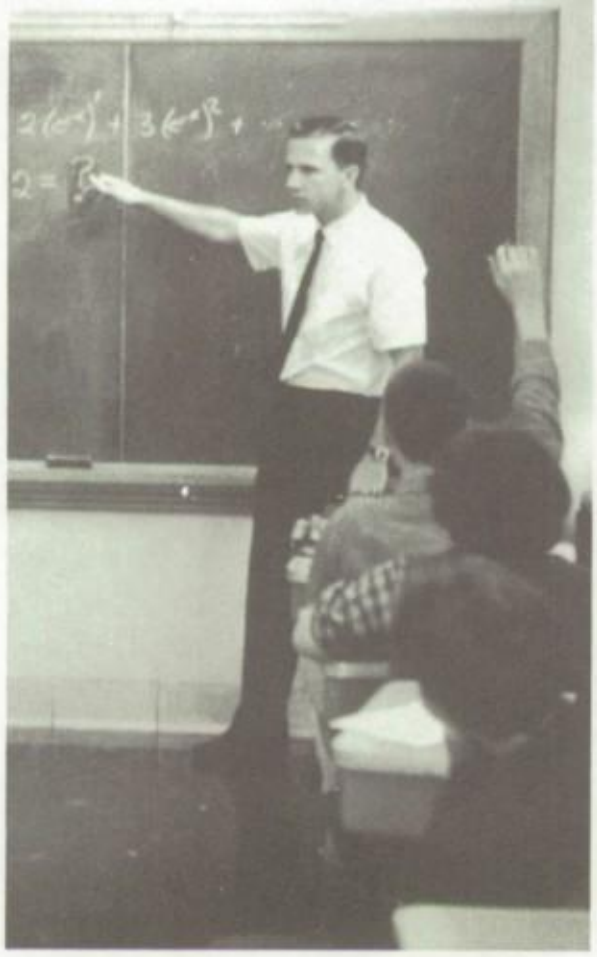


America wants you!

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

Mr. Henry, Mr. Condon, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. TeWinkle, and Mr. Adams.

To pick up your spare, aim for the left arrow.



All right, which one of you knuckle heads knows the answer?

"Sold-to the highest bidder!"

Through the series of natural science courses offered at Clymer, the student may gain valuable experience in the everyday world.

The Freshman science courses are taught by Mr. Adams. The geological and meteorological aspects of the earth are explored in Earth Science, whereas, in General Science, the fundamentals of the broad area of science are taught.

In biology, taught by Mr. Sullivan, we study in detail the animal and plant life of the world. In lab, once a week, biology students dissect small animals, test to find their blood types, and inspect animals and plant specimens.

The chemistry class, taught by Mr. Henry, concerns the full study of the chemical composition of matter and the transformation it under goes.

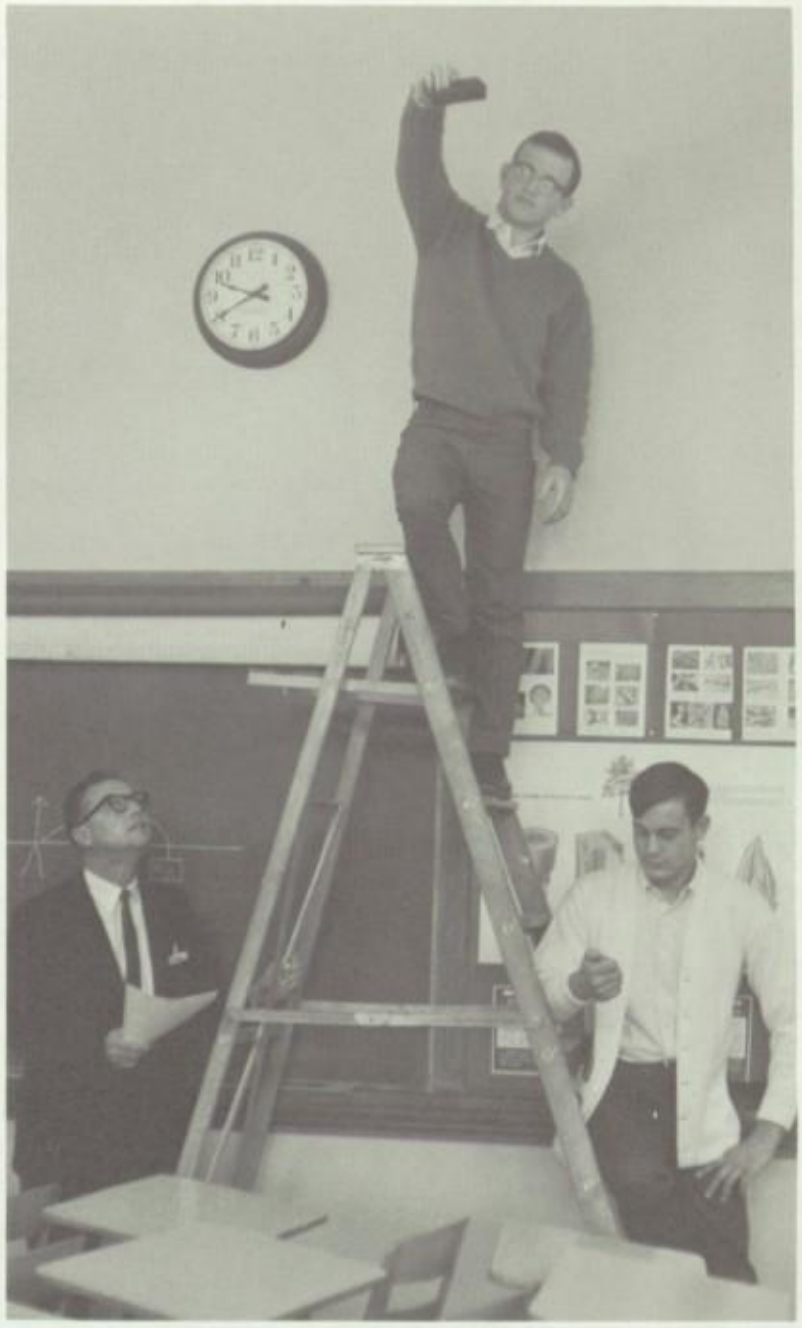
Physics, a predominantly senior subject also taught by Mr. Henry, introduces students to the science of matter and motion, work and energy.

To the students, mathematics presents challenging subject matter which brings important knowledge that aids the student in the development of reasoning and logical thinking.

Elementary Algebra provides the basis for further courses in mathematics in which quantities are denoted by letters, and problems are solved by equations.

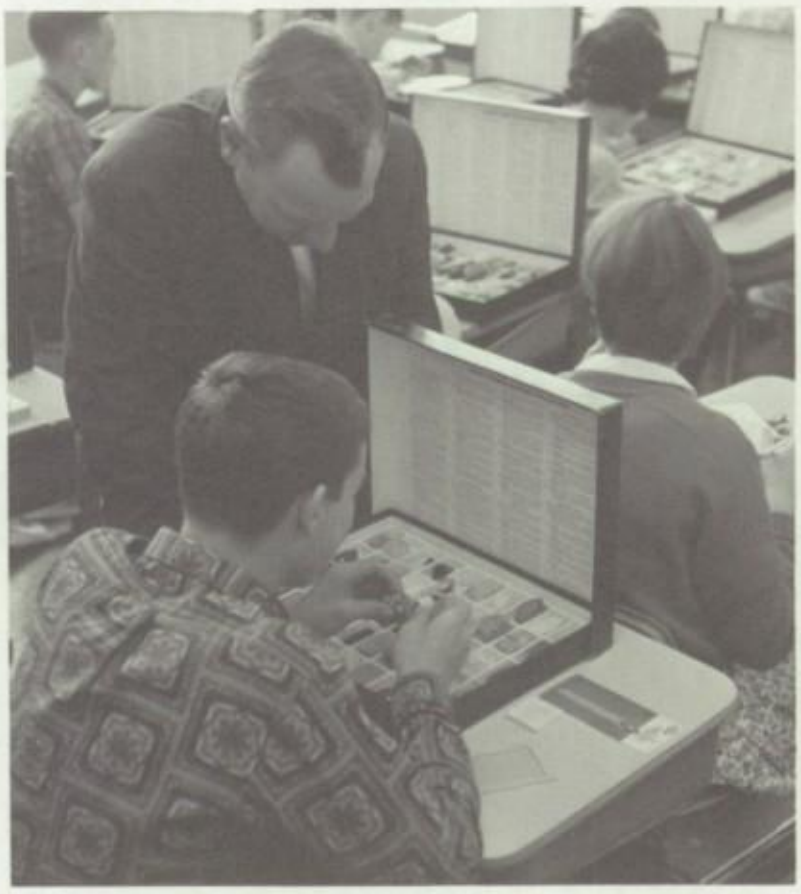
Intermediate algebra, taken most often by Juniors, involves a more advanced and detailed study of trigonometry and algebra.

Math 12, the most advanced course in mathematics offered at Clymer, is taught by Mr. Condon; it involves the study of statistics, trigonometry, algebra, logistics, and introduction to calculus.



At 9:40, Mr. Henry anxiously awaits the impact of Larry Thompson's eraser as Paul Heslink gives the countdown.

"Gold!!" exclaims Mr. Adams.



PRACTICALITY FROM PINS

Mr. Moses, Business Arts

In Home Economics, students, under the direction of Miss Hill, study the important aspects of a good home. They acquire skill in cooking and sewing as well as learn how to assume responsibility as an adult.

The commercial students learn skills and subjects useful in business occupations. These are taught by Mr. Moses in such areas as: shorthand, transcription, bookkeeping, typing, and business math.

Miss Hill, Homemaking

I KNOW it tells how to run a typewriter in here somewhere.

What are nice girls like you, doing in a place like this?

Chicken Tracking!

"Now under here SOMEPLACE . . . . ."

TO PUNCHES

"Mr. B. and his boys puddle around."

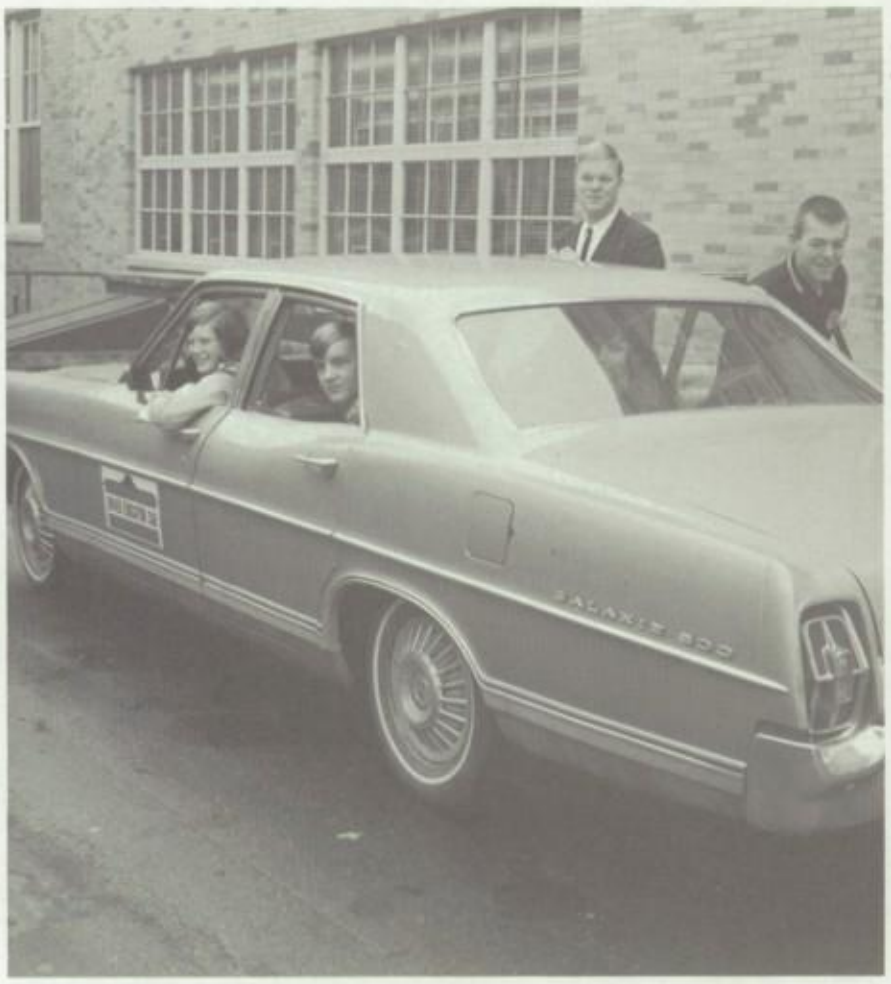
Under the supervision of Mr. Bensink, the boys in agriculture are taught the applied sciences and the fundamental methods of farming and mechanics. They learn to apply the economic principles of agriculture to the agriculture in their vicinity, county, state and the nation.

"Now lay your finger here . . . . . "

Each week the students in Driver Education, under the guidance of Mr. Reagle, receive practical instructions in driving lessons. In theory classes, they learn the mechanical features of a car and the rules of good driving.

"What's that slide doing in there?"

Do I dare?!!!



Miss Lydell–French, Mrs. Legters–Latin

LANGUAGES

In Clymer Central School, Mrs. Legters has made Latin interesting to the students by her method of presenting it. In Latin I, students learn the fundamentals of mythology. Interesting stories in Latin II include Hannibal's crossing of the Alps with elephants, and Caesar's problems in keeping the Roman Empire from crumbling. Latin III, the last of the Latin courses in our high school, describes the exciting life of Cicero. One of the exciting events in Cicero's life is exposing the Catilinarian conspiracy by his eloquent orations.

French, one of the modern languages, has been enlightened by a new teacher, Miss Lydell. One thing we have done this year that has never been done is march around the school singing "La Marseillaise" in commemoration of Bastille Day. We are learning the boundaries of France as well as the provinces which compose the interior of the country. We sing interesting French songs such as "Napoleon Avait Cinq Cents Soldats."

"Humm, It's all Greek to me!"

Euuu!!!

LIBRARIES

Mrs. Auer–Elementary Librarian

Through the able leadership of our librarians, Mrs. Rickers and Mrs. Auer, our libraries keep growing each year. The high school library in the past two years has acquired many new audio-visual aids. Some of these are a recording library, filmstrips, and a quick source of microfilm. The high school library has about 300 reference books which give us a broader scope in our various fields of study. There are approximately 2,000 nonfiction and about 1,200 fiction books which are a supplement to other studies. Also, our library has 30 magazines which keep us up-to-date on the latest events in our world. The elementary librarian, Mrs. Auer, instructs the elementary school students in the fundamental skills of library usage. The elementary library provides excellent books for pleasure as well as informative reading.

Mrs. Rickers–Librarian

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mrs. Scott, Mr. Neal, and Mr. Ball.

Under the supervision of Coach Ball, Coach Neal, and Mrs. Scott, all students are required to participate in the gym classes. Games and various sports become a painless way to learn to exercise and have fun. Physical fitness tests are given to the students every year to measure the components of fitness such as speed, strength, balance, endurance, and agility.

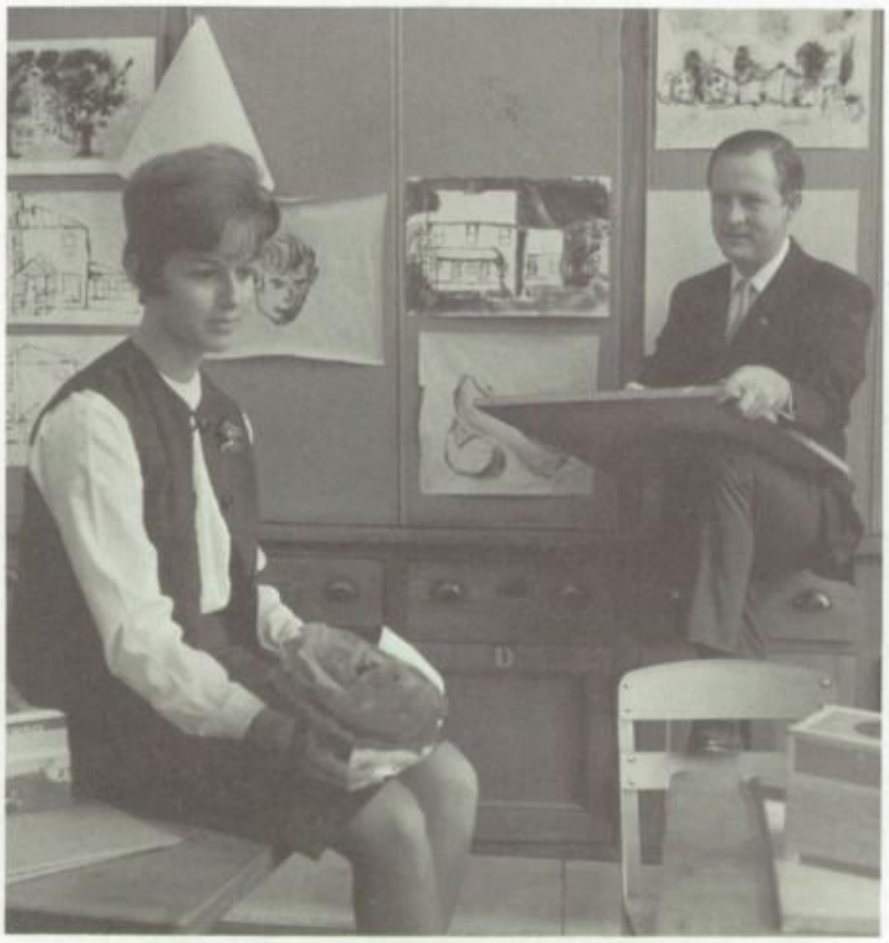
ART

Art has made a great impact on our culture and world. The students of CCS can develop their abilities in this curricula through the instruction of Mrs. Dearing and Mr. Snyder.

Daily you can hear lectures and a buzz of activity throughout the halls of the school. The results are very evident to the community when the seasonal art displays are presented.

The students are also encouraged by field trips, competitions and individual incentives to do their best.



Mrs. Dearing, Mr. Snyder

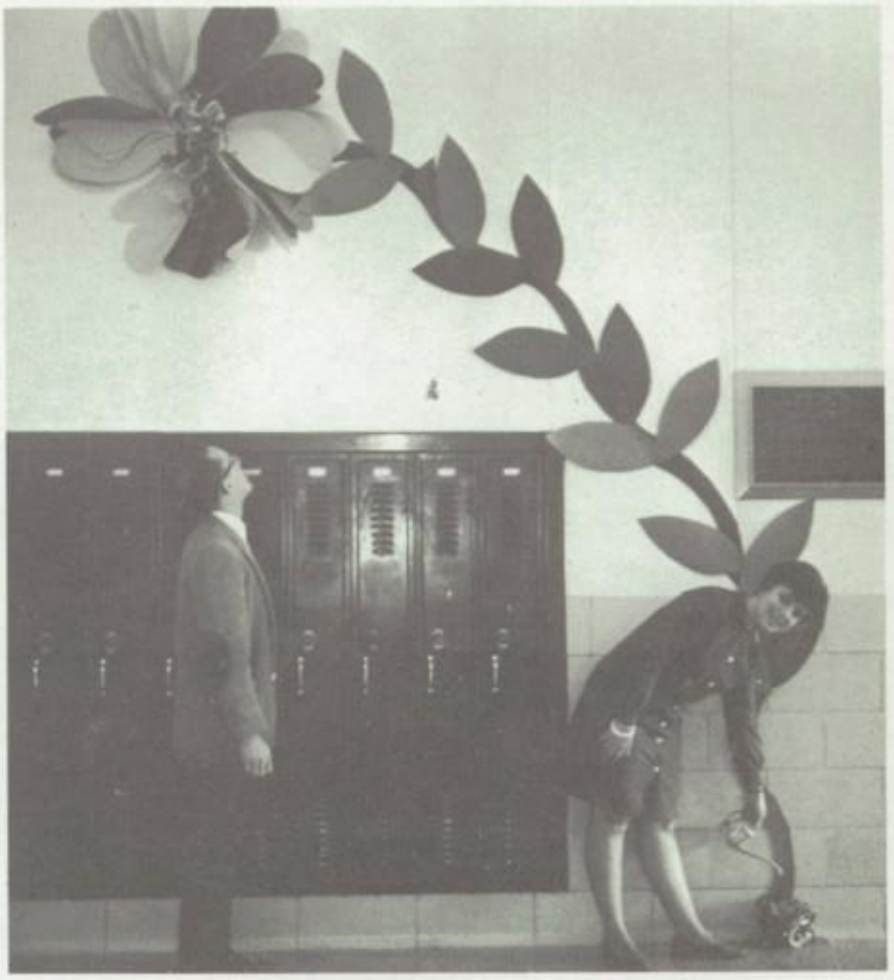
"Tis the season to make snow flakes"

"A . . . . B . . . . C . . . ."

Mrs. Dearing instructs an over crowded 8th grade class.

MUSIC

The instrumental music department offers lessons to all students in the fourth grade and up. Mr. Harrower instructs fluto-phones, brass, wind, and percussion students from which he forms the Senior and Junior bands. The students learn to read music and follow the conductor through various types of music. Much enjoyment is gained through instrumental participation.



Mr. Harrower, Mrs. Rhebergen

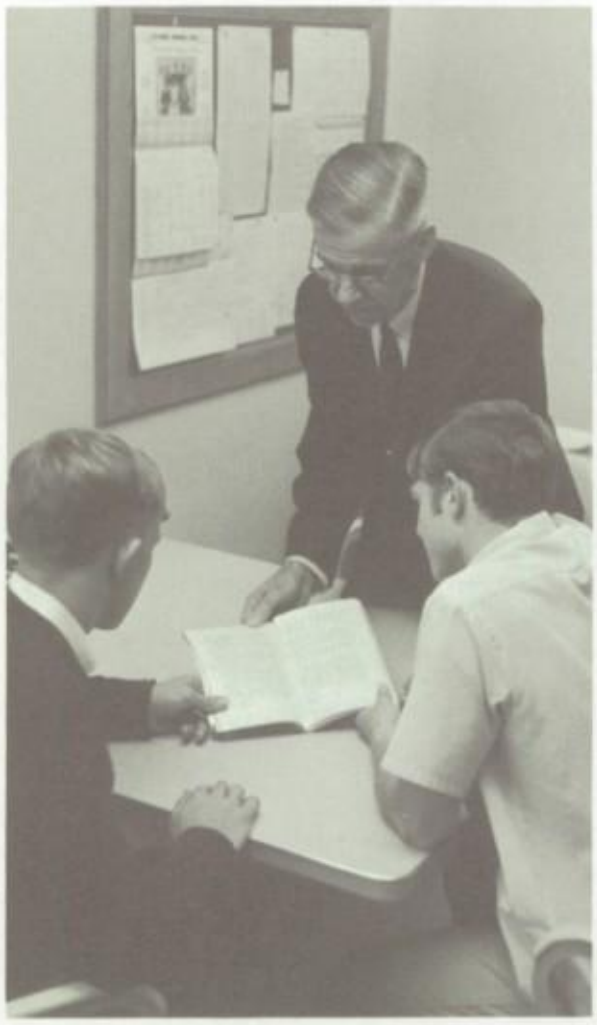
The vocal music department gives instruction to all grades–Kindergarten through Eighth. In these periods, Mrs. Rhebergen shows students how to sing and listen to different types of music and teaches them the fundamentals of music theory. These classes help bring appreciation of music into the lives of our young students.

The second grade enjoys singing during its music class.

Mr. Harrower has command of his band.

Mr. Harrower instructs a young musician.

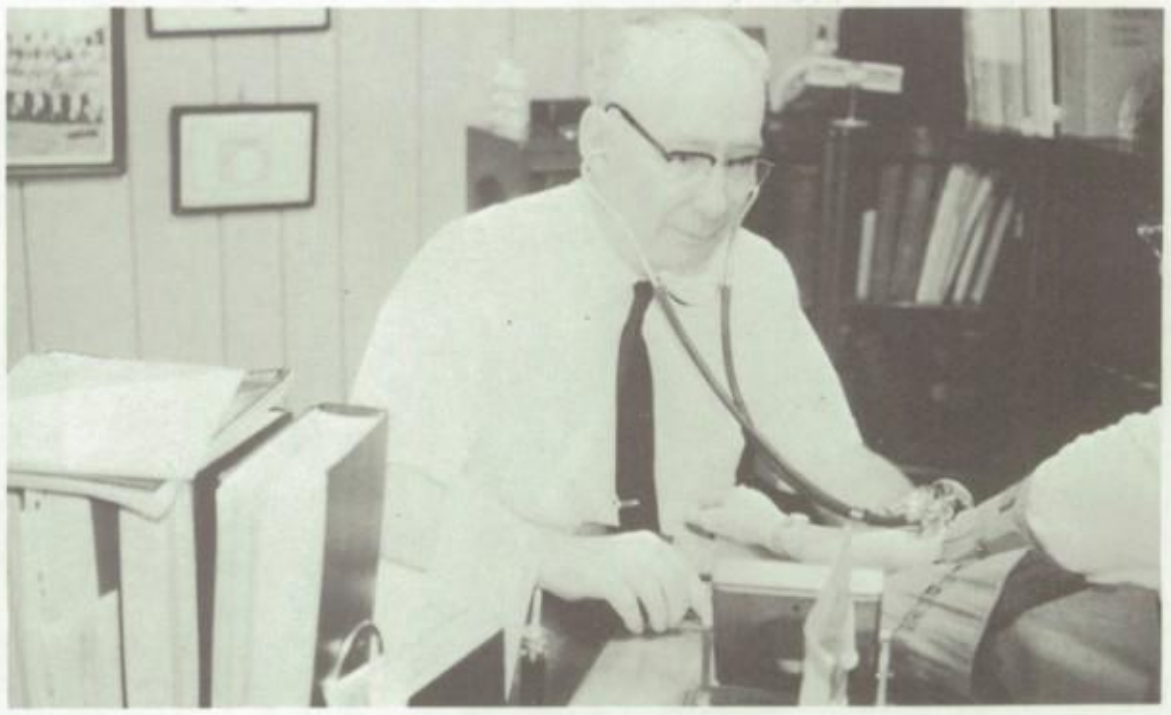
GUIDANCE



Mr. TeWinkle helps two boys decide their future.

Without the help of a guidance counselor, it would be virtually impossible for a student to find the answers to questions he may have about his future or school status. Mr. TeWinkle is the man CCS students go to when making schedules, asking about colleges, or when needing help to improve their grades or study habits.

PHYSICAL SERVICE



Dr. R. X. Williams, Sr.

Miss Ruth Lanston

A student cannot be expected to maintain a high level of scholastic achievement unless he is physically capable.

Dr. Williams, Miss Lanston, and Miss Legters perform physical services in the form of cleaning teeth, administering first aid, and holding clinics for the benefit of the students. Through these people, the school can be assured of having healthy students —which in turn make a better school and community.

Mr. Strong; Mr. Herman, student teacher of history.

Miss Lanston gives comfort to a grade-school student.

SPECIAL SERVICES PSYCHOLOGIST

Mrs. Legters, Mr. McMullin

Mr. Pesarchic

Mrs. Holthouse and Mrs. Beckerink, the cafeteria monitors, help serve the children their lunches and supervise them while they eat.

To assist the teachers with their work, Mrs. Nixdorf corrects the Students' papers, tabulates meal tickets, and takes the elementary children to lunch.

Mrs. Legters and Mr. McMullin teach remedial reading to students who are deficient in this subject. The purpose of this reading course is to improve comprehension, speed, and other reading skills.

Mrs. Nixdorf

The responsibility of a school psychologist is to insure the students of having mentally and emotionally capable minds. Mr. Pesarchic plays this extremely important role at CCS. His main purpose is to counsel the students and review their problems so they can be capable of good school achievement and active participation in school activities.

THANKS

It takes a hardhitting, hardworking staff to keep our schools at Clymer and Findley Lake operating smoothly. Our cafeteria staff serves 675 meals a day, 3,375 meals a week, 122,850 meals a year, and 185,152 cartons of milk a year.

Our custodial staff cleans and maintains our school buildings so that we can take pride in their appearances. Among other tasks they change 30 dozen light bulbs, apply 70 gallons of floor wax and sealer, and distribute 1,500 packages of paper towels a year.

Our bus mechanics and drivers take the responsibility for the transportation of the CCS students seriously. The repair and maintenance of the buses require special care, for our drivers must guide 14 buses over 840 miles of routes each day. In addition, bus drivers transport the CCS students to games, field trips, and other school activities. This year our buses will travel approximately 172,781 miles.

Our drivers are justly proud of our bus-safety record which stretches back over a period of many years, we in return are grateful for the impact they have made on CCS and Clymer.

INDIVIDUAL PROGRESS

The course designed for students to develop on an individual level, Clymer Central's Individual Progress Class is taught by Mr. Stormer. This class composed of academic self-improvement lessons, practical arts and music areas in the curriculum allows the student to be flexible and pursue areas of individual interest. Students especially enjoy seasonal projects and the holiday planning and course work involved.

Several of these students are developing practical skills in the cafeteria, offices and shops. This will aid them in life after school.

Some of the boys have been trained and serve as Audio-Visual aids to teachers in the Elementary and Junior High. Their responsibilities include set-up and projection of movies, channeling of films and audio materials to the rooms by schedule and care and maintenance of the equipment.

Fine results are measured by the progress of these people in Individual Progress Class.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

A program of Vocational Education courses offered to high school Juniors and Seniors in Chautauqua County was set up by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services of Chautauqua County. This program, which became effective in September 1966, is constructed primarily for students whose interests are in the field of technical training. These courses require special skills in manual operations, reasoning, and mechanical knowledge.

The courses are available to students in ten schools in the southern portion of Chautauqua County and are given in rented facilities at Lakewood. The student who is taking the program of vocational courses spends half a day at his own school taking English, History, and related subjects and half a day at Lakewood taking the vocational class. Clymer students attend Cosmetology 1 and 2, Data Processing and Auto Body Mechanics.

At the conclusion of a two year course in Cosmetology, the student is eligible to take the state examination to receive a license, after which she may set up practice or continue her studies by specializing in some aspect of the field.

In the Auto Body Mechanics class the student learns the care and use of tools and equipment, repair of auto bodies, electric and oxy-acetylene welding, refinishing, and metallurgy. After high school, the student who has completed this course may seek employment with car dealers, insurance companies, industries or he may operate his own business.

In the Data Processing class at Lakewood, the student learns the operation and care of numerous electronics business machines such as a card sorter, key punch, and accounting machines. At the completion of this course, the student has gained the skill and experience needed to obtain a job in this area.

These practical skill courses last 2½ hours each day, and are two-year sequences. The classes are truly occupational because they equip the student with practical skill and prepare him for work immediately following high school graduation.

The Afternoon Cosmetology Class learns the tricks to a good manicure.

The Vocational students are ready to leave for their classes.

The girls have an opportunity to style each others hair.

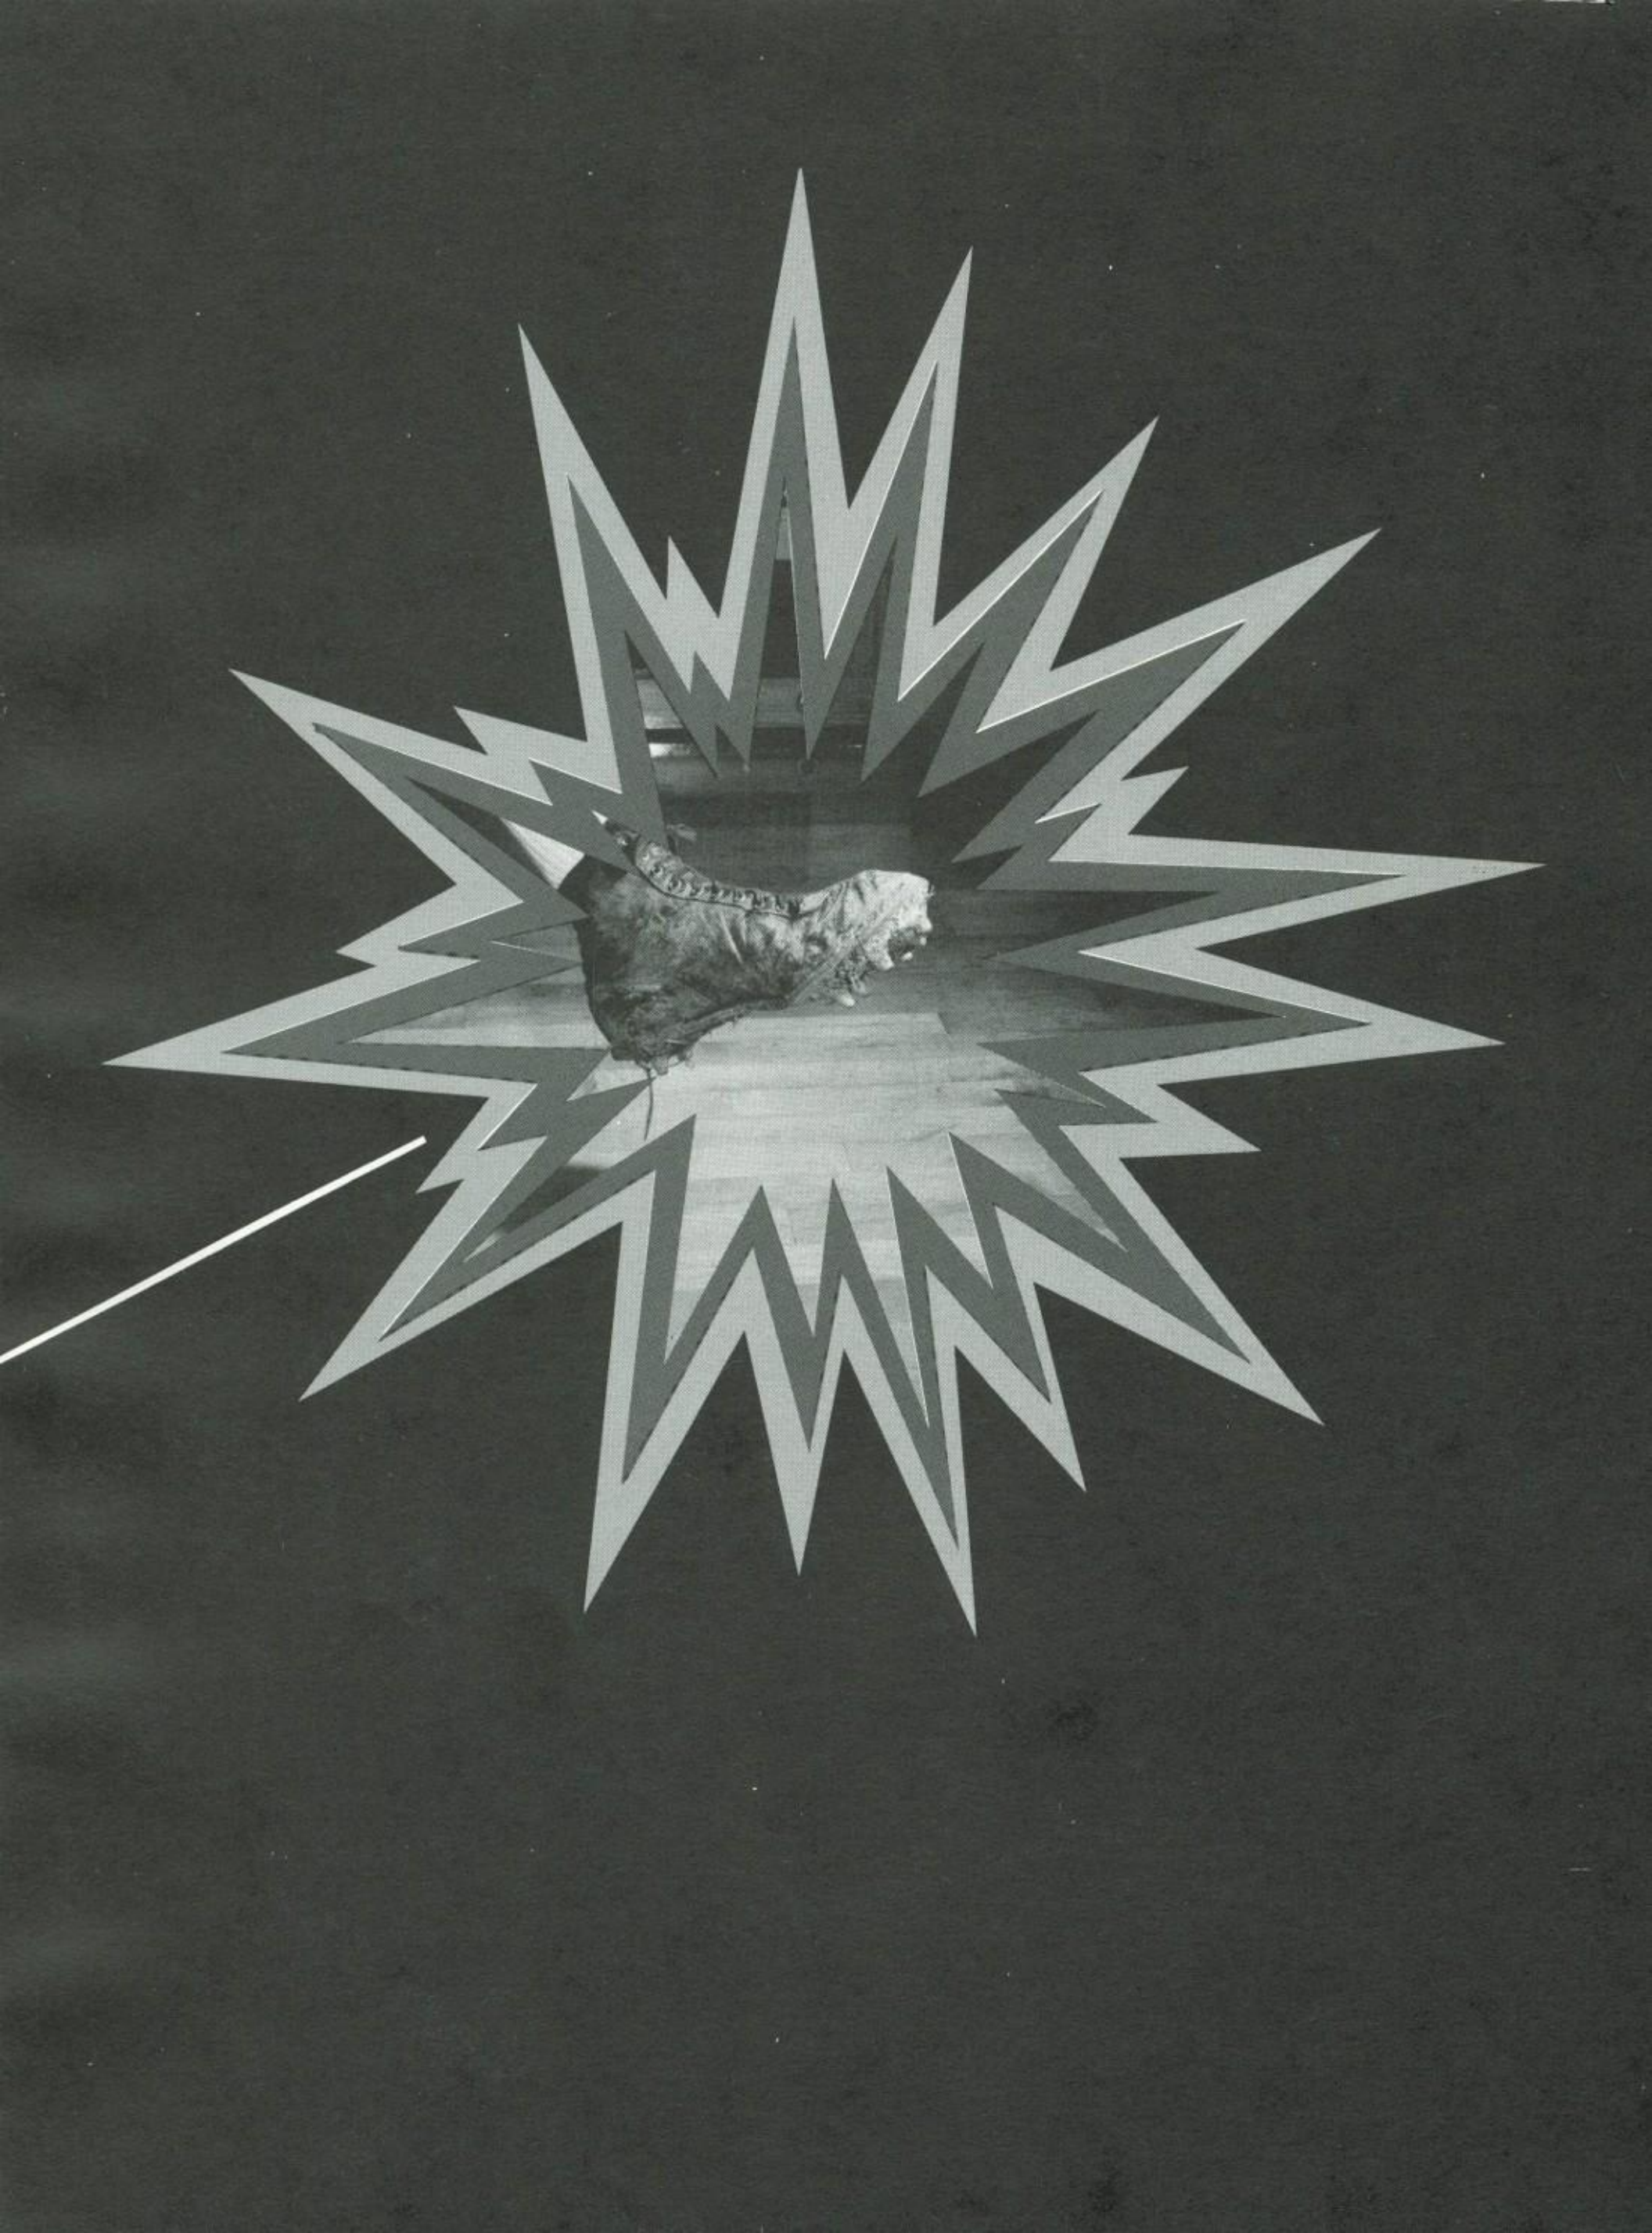
STUDENT LIFE



The main purpose of the AFS Club is to promote better relations with other countries. In order to do this, they sponsor many projects such as the Election Day Pancake Supper, and selling calendars and pizzas to help bring an exchange student to Clymer and send one of our students abroad.

AMERICAN

Celia prepares to leave for an exciting summer in Italy.

The Mario Gobetti Family

The summer of 1967 meant an interesting and challenging experience for Celia Hogenboom in Marmirolo, Italy. She learned a new language, new customs, and a whole new way of life. The Mario Gobetti's became her new family and accepted her. Celia participated in all family and community activities and also had an opportunity to travel and see other aspects of Italian life. Although only one individual, we feel that she has brought the AFS motto, "Walk together, talk together, O ye people of the earth; then and only then shall there be peace," one step closer to becoming true.

FIELD SERVICE

Jamnong Limpichareon

On August 6, 1956, Jamnong Limpichareon arrived in Clymer to spend the 1967-68 school year with the Rudy Burkholder family as an AFS exchange student.

Jamnong, a native of "Parh Tai" or Southern Thailand, comes from a family of seven: two brothers, two sisters, and his parents. His interests are many, ranging from stamp collecting and photography to sports and music.

To be an AFS exchange student, a person must be well rounded in every way, in his actions and thoughts. Jamnong is surely this and more. You can see him everywhere—working, enjoying himself, and making friends, all in the true AFS spirit.

We will always remember and thank Jamnong for what he has taught us in his short year and the joy he has brought to Clymer. We are sure he will remember Clymer in the same way.

Jamnong and his American family—Randy, Virginia, and Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder.

This group of girls plan and carry out activities which will help them better their homemaking skill. They also have a number of social activities as well as service projects for such groups as orphanages, and children homes. They strive to improve their personal, family and community lives. The girls realize the need for self-improvement in the various relationships in life. It has given its members an opportunity to express themselves, improve their character, establish high moral codes for living and to co-operate as a group.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Under the motto of "Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, and living to serve", the Clymer Chapter of Future Farmers of America strive to create the needed agricultural leadership in today's fast moving world. The chapter carries out a planned agricultural program of work each year in which co-operation, leadership, and good citizenship must be practiced in order to successfully carry out this program.

This group meets for the purpose of learning about Roman culture and how it influenced Modern America. Knowledge of Latin is broadened by projects such as making posters, showing English derivatives of Latin words, and solving crossword puzzles in Latin.

LATIN CLUB

LIBRARY CLUB

Having learned many library skills, the members of the Library Club are a great help to the students and faculty alike. In addition to doing library work and taking field trips, they sponsor contests throughout the year for the student body to encourage library usage.

The Student Council regulates school activities and class projects. Each class elects three members as representatives, who voice the opinions of their classmates in each decision. This organization also collects and appropriates funds which are mutually beneficial to all students of the school. Among these benefits are the new Hammond organ, a scholarship to a member of the graduating class each year and a gift to a Korean orphanage at Christmas. Also the Student Council has placed a suggestion box in the study hall this year and has taken student opinion polls in the past.

STUDENT COUNCIL

To be eligible for membership in the National Honor Society, a student must demonstrate outstanding qualities in Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. The Clymer Chapter of the National Honor Society, Kappa Lamda, has sought to uphold these ideals. This organization serves as an example and a stimulus for the students. The five new members inducted this November but not included in the picture are Larry Thompson, Jim Williams, Chuck Mobilia, Linda Thompson, and Debbie Williams.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In any athletic organization, the overall intention is the promotion of physical fitness. In Swim Club, the members improve their aquatic abilities and in doing so bring a Lifesaving badge closer into view. At the same time, it provides a chance for students to enjoy year-round recreation in the form of swimming at the YMCA.

SWIM CLUB

The Future Teachers Club is composed of high school students who are considering a career in teaching. The main goal of this club is to explore and observe various aspects of teaching. Included in the program are visiting other schools or centers, films on teaching experiences, and actual participation in some classes as aides. By these experiences students are given a a background to help select the subject areas they want.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Music Club meets to study the development of music. These students discuss each level of music—from Gregorian chants to modern Rock 'n Roll. They are interested not only in listening to music, but also in understanding and being able to present intelligent views on it.

MUSIC CLUB

CCS EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

The CCS Association, the official teachers' club of the school, meets monthly to seek professional improvements, to handle business matters of the club and seasonly enjoys social programs. Officers of the club are: Mr. Reagle, President; Mr. Condon, Vice-President; Mrs. Auer, Secretary; Mr. McMullin, Treasurer.

Each year the responsibility of manning a capable staff and producing a newspaper falls to the Junior Class. The 1968 PIRATE TRIBUNE was put into print through the efforts of Editor Vicki Munnell, Co-Editors Donna Rothenberger and Melanie Ruff, and Advisor Mr. Thomas. This literary production is the first that a high school student has the opportunity to contriute to or to help in organizing. It is an experiment in hard work and cooperation which can be very beneficial to a student's journalistic future.

PIRATES' TRIBUNE

SPOTLIGHT STAFF

A very important Senior Class project and a book that records the history of a year in CCS is the SPOTLIGHT. Acting as this year's yearbook co-editors and advisors are: Sally Beckerink, Celia Hogenboom, Ruth Mobilia, Mr. Bensink and Mr. Thomas. This book is the end product of a year's work. Experience in journalism and publication of a yearbook aids the student in conveying and developing ideas, events and thoughts to others.

SPORTS

The 1967 Varsity Football Team representing Clymer in the Vine Conference competition finished with an overall 4-4 record. League action started with the Pirates downing Pine Valley 13-6 and defeating Panama 27-7. The team's hopes for a conference title were dashed when the team dropped close games to Brocton 7-6, Sherman 18-14 and the disheartening 33-20 loss to Mayville after leading 20-0 at the half. The Pirates closed out the season by overpowering Ripley 47-14. In non-league play, the Pirates were defeated 30-12 by Frewsburg but bounced back to defeat the Southwestern J.V. 33-6.

Both coaches and team members felt the outcome of the season showed little of their capacities due to crucial mistakes. The Clymer Pirates were tough, ready and willing to play hard for a good game. Attendance at the games exceeded previous seasons.

The JV team tried their hardest to surpass their last season's record but ended unsuccessfully. Their experiences will help them next year when they play on the Varsity.

The JV spent much time in learning fundamentals of football under the teaching of Mr. McMullin.

The Varsity Basketball squad, under the leadership of Coach Ball and with only one returning letterman, experienced a tight season. After winning their opening game, the Pirates dropped two close ones, both in overtime. This set the pattern for a very close season.

The JV basketball team, inspired by Coach Neal, completed a successful year. Aided by ample height, many of these sophomores will be contending for Varsity spots next year.

The Junior High team, winning a few games, has seen better seasons. Under the coaching of Mr. Sullivan, the boys are drilled in basketball fundamentals, hopefully to be used in later years.

The baseball met only moderate success in its 1967 season. Guided by our new baseball coach, Mr. Neal, this year's inexperienced team was able to achieve a 2-4 record. Having a large turnout this year and the team growing in experience, Coach is justified in having an optimistic outlook for next season.

Inclement weather, few returning lettermen, and late season start all had their effect on a hard-working, well-coached team. A 3-3 record for the season placed the Pirate team midway in league standing. Tough Cattaraugus and Sherman's weaknesses blended for a mediocre season. Mr. Russell taught and coached a cross-section team of Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshman to good victories and hard losses.

Clymer's three squads of cheerleaders have put a wholehearted effort behind their teams this year to support them in both triumph and defeat. With the patience and aid of their adviser, Mrs. Scott, three well-organized squads were formed.

Each girl worked to the best of her ability as an individual and as a team to build a great squad.

MAJORETTES

Every Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Tarbell comes to Clymer and teaches all who are interested, how to handle a baton. The class includes twirlers from first grade through twelfth grade. Baton twirling develops the coordination and balance. The student also learns the meaning of such words as "ambidextrous" and "cadence". Mrs. Tarbell makes her classes interesting and enjoyable with her stories and good sense of humor.

On April 20 and 21, the class of 1968 presented STRANGE BOARDERS. Cordelia Tuttle was a rather confused middle-aged spinster who took in boarders to help support two adopted daughters, a retired sea captain, and a kooky professor. She discovers later that her boarders are really bank robbers. With the aid of Pauline, her dressmaker's dummy, and her "family" she succeeds in capturing the gang, acquires a substantial reward, and lives "happily ever after."

SENIOR PLAY

LA VIE

Thunder—Lightning—The spider strikes! Minerva Osterman and three others are dead. "But why?" said Mary, her niece. "Who would want to kill Aunt Minerva?" A very good question indeed.

Minerva and Dr. Adler planned a little family reunion to find out who deserved to inherit the estate. The harmless trick turned out to be a huge funeral. We learned that the maid, Nora, was the villain. She killed the heirs to inherit the estate which she felt that she deserved from the beginning. After all, Nora's sister, Minerva, had stolen her husband and daughter. Didn't she deserve something?

Thus went the Senior Play on November 9 and 10. Under the able direction of Mr. Morgan the actors baffled and terrified the audience. WEB OF MURDER will long be remembered in the annals of the Clymer theater.

Senior Chorus

One may listen to the chorus under Mrs. Rhebergen's direction on Tuesday and Thursday first period. This year, the size of the group was cut down to help balance the sections and make it possible for Room 1 to accommodate the 75 member group.

Because the concerts in the past have been too long, the music department decided to have separate concerts this year. The vocal section presented the annual Christmas Concert December 19.

Some outside activities of the chorus members are: the Sectional All-State Chorus, the Chautauqua County Music Festival, and the Solo Festival in spring.

CHORUS

Senior Band

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday morning first period, one may listen to the band rehearse in Room 1. Under the baton of Mr. Harrower, the band works hard to prepare for concerts, assemblies, competition, parades, and graduation. Some of the members participate in the solo festivals each spring to get individual ratings. Other activities of some instrumental students include the Sectional All-State Band and the Chautauqua County Music Festival.

This year, student conductors were added to the program. Student conductors provide the opportunity for the band members to learn to follow other conductors as well as give each student the chance to lead a group.

Among the events and attractions which highlighted the day were: street scrubbing by Clymer residents dressed in authentic Dutch costumes; Kleine and Groat Klompen dancers; the grand parade composed of more than 40 units of which the PTA float won grand prize; window displays; tulip beds; and the crowning of the new queen, Ruth Mobilia by 1965 queen, Peggy Querreveld.

Meg Blish, Sophomore Representative; Vicki Kranz, May Queen; Ruth Mobilia, Junior Representative; Debbie Williams, Freshman Representative.

May Day has always been an important occasion at CCS and May 26, 1967, was no exception. It was a bright, sunny day as the twelve archbearers formed a floral passageway for the entrance of the Queen. Queen Vicki Kranz was crowned by the Junior representative, Ruth Mobilia. She was presented a necklace by Meg Blish, the Sophomore representative, and a footstool by the Freshman representative, Debbie Williams. After the fourth grade girls wound the May Pole, Queen Vicki led the procession from the throne, and the festivities drew to a close.

Mr. Harrower and the Brass Ensemble.

Queen Vicki and her court.

On May 12, 1967, at Dryden, N.Y., at New York State FFA Convention, Jack W. Gibbons, a 1966 CCS graduate and a member of Clymer FFA Chapter, was named Star Farmer of New York State. For this honor he received a trophy and a check from the National FFA Foundation of $300.00.

On September 16, Jack made FFA Star Farmer of 1967 of the North Atlantic Region at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass. He received a trophy and a check for $300.00.

On September 26, Jack was named FFA Star Dairy Farmer of America at the National Dairy Congress at Waterloo, Iowa. He was presented a plaque and a monetary award of $250 at the National FFA Convention at Kansas City on October 12, 1967.

HONORS

ACADEMIC

Each spring a nationwide Latin test, the A.P.S.L., is taken by students of first year Latin straight through to those studying college Latin. In June 1967, the students who received certificates of commendable achievement were: Karen Nellis, Lynnette Damcott, Judy Lookenhouse, Sharon Roush, John Beckerink, Kathleen Clawson, Barbara Gorski, Sharon Hazen, Donna Moore, and Karen Rowan.

Girl's State, which is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, was attended this summer by Ruth Mobilia. Boy's State, attended by Tom Markham and Mike Baker, is made available through the American Legion.

These two activities are held annually to give high school juniors the opportunity to learn more about the New York State government.

To receive a Letter of Commendation, a high school junior must qualify in the 98th percentile of the students taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Ruth Mobilia and Larry Thompson were the CCS students who were recipients of this award.

Recipients of Regents scholarships: Roger Gates, Charles Gorski, Steve Boozel (not pictured, Bonnie Fergus). Gail Howard was awarded the Nursing Scholarship and Jim Rothenberger was named an alternate.

ATHLETIC

Dan Bemis follows in his father's footsteps; he was N.Y.S. Junior Bowling Champion of 1967.

On December 3, at the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. Irwin J. Bensink was presented one of three National Outstanding Teachers of Agriculture awards for 1967 by the Chas. Pfizer Company. The award cited Mr. Bensink for his work in Future Farmers, Vocational Agriculture, and his guidance to Jack Gibbons.

For the first time in CCS history a student participated in a track event, and came home with one of the top honors—1st place for the hundred yard dash competition; Jim Williams ran the one-hundred yard dash in 10.6 seconds.

Several CCS football players were named to the All Conference League. These boys and their respective positions:

Paul Heslink . .2 Year Offensive Guard
Jon Odell . . . . . Offensive Halfback and Top Rushing Back
Dan Bemis . . . . . Defensive Safety

Players named to Honorable Mention:

Jerry Stritzinger. . . . . .Defensive End
Randy VanderSchaaff . . . . .Defensive Linebacker
Darryl Odell . . . Defensive Linebacker
David Kolstee . . . . . Offensive Tackle
Chuck Mobilia . . . . . Offensive Center

At the completion of each football season, five major athletic awards are given to the most outstanding football players. The three awards decided on by the players were:

Most Valuable Player . . . Paul Heslink
Best Offensive Lineman. . Paul Heslink
Best Offensive Back . . . . . Jon Odell

The two awards determined on a point basis were:

Best Defensive Lineman. . Paul Heslink
Best Defensive Back . . . . . .Jon and Darryl Odell

GRADUATION

Warren,

To a really great guy. Remember all our fun we had last summer, the great Chem classes, our talks, your Karate. Be good to all your Sherman friends, girls included, Be good but do have lots of fun.

THE END

A. L. A.

Linda

Warren,
Best of luck to a real swell guy. Remember all the fun that last summer brought, class projects, gym class, and etc. It was nice year bumping the same fun. Be good to whoever that certain person may be.

Pat

Warren,
Best of luck to a great guy. Remember all the fun we have had in the gym, to a great guy. Remember all the fun we have had in the gym, class, and etc. Never may not see you again but I'll always remember you as a swell guy. Good luck to you in the future. Be good to her and she will be good to you.

A. F. A.
Chuck

Warren,
Remember all the times, and places we have enjoyed ourselves. Sometimes my steering got kind of "sloped" up. But all in all we've had some real times. Good luck with everything. Watch out for the South Ripley crop of boys.

A. F. A.
Dick.

Warren,
You're a real idiot of a guy. Good luck. Even though you keep getting fouled out (I'll be good and you try to keep out of trouble) I'm not around.
